NEWS & VIEWS

Patty Edwards brings 38 years of nursing compassion combined with 20 years of legal expertise to every client she serves—but more importantly, she brings a heart guided by faith. At Edwards Legal Office, where law and compassion meet, you'll find an attorney who sees her work as a ministry of service to those in need.

Where Law and Compassion Meet

Ms. Edwards brings a unique perspective to legal practice, her dual background enables her to address not only the legal complexities her clients face, but also their emotional and practical needs during challenging times.

After nearly sixteen years of caring for patients, Ms. Edwards entered law school with a clear mission: to practice law the way she practiced nursing—with genuine compassion for the whole person. Her recent work with legal aid reinforced her commitment to accessible, dignified legal representation for those who need it most.

Specializing in bankruptcy law, Social Security Disability (SSI/SSDI), and estate planning, Ms. Edwards helps individuals and families navigate life's most difficult transitions. Whether you're facing financial crisis, disability, or planning for your family's future, you'll find an attorney who truly listens and cares about your situation.

Patty and her husband, Mark are devoted to their faith and active in their church. Their blended family of 8 children and 12 grandchildren in Minnesota and Kentucky reminds them daily of life's greatest blessings. Outside the office, Patty enjoys RV travels and fishing with Mark, always thankful for God's guidance in her life and work.

The mission of Edwards Legal Office is to guide clients emotionally, spiritually, and financially through their legal crises, helping them obtain a fresh perspective and get their lives back on track.
