Paralegal employers,

Thank you for deciding to purchase NALA memberships for your paralegals at the discounted group rate. We appreciate you for being an exemplary employer by supporting the growth and professional development of your employees. By purchasing memberships at the group rate, you give your paralegals access to a multitude of benefits to assist them on their professional journey. Many of these benefits also affect you, as their employer, since the knowledge and skills they may obtain could improve their performance at work and their value as an employee. Some benefits include discounts on education, conference registration, and Certified Paralegal (CP[®]) Exam application fees. About 50% of NALA Conference & Expo attendees have their registration paid for by their employer. Please consider further investing in your paralegals' professional development by covering the cost of their registration. We encourage you to explore more NALA membership benefits here.

Thank you,
