

How to renew NALA Affiliated Association Membership?

With NALA's database, there is a method for affiliated associations who wish to pay the annual affiliation renewal fee online.

All NALA Liaisons have been assigned the role of Manager for their respective associations.

In the event an association does not have a NALA Liaison, the President is assigned the Manager role. To pay the annual affiliation fee online:

1. The NALA Liaison or the President should login to your individual NALA account, accessing the NALA Portal at <https://portal.nalamember.com/>
2. Enter your email and password. If this is the first time you have logged into your account, Password1 is your temporary password. After you enter it, you will be required to change your password. Be sure to use your primary email account as your login. You can also obtain a link to reset your password.

3. On the Organizations tab, you can see affiliated association information on the right of the window. Click Manage.
